

Dear Steve,

I was so pleased that you were chosen as the contractor of choice for our most recent house renovation project together, and the subsequent sale of the East York 2 bedroom bungalow in November, 2011.

As a realtor, I know the importance of taking the time to prepare the house before bringing it to the marketplace. The objective, of course is to accomplish the best possible price for the seller.

This most recent project certainly had its challenges, but you handled each one and didn't let up until the task was not just done, but done with excellence. You are certainly a credit to your trade and have raised the bar for your peers.

It is a pleasure, Steve, to work with a contractor who takes such pride in his work and accomplishes the task in a timely fashion without compromising his professionalism and integrity. You truly are an asset to my industry as well. You help to make my work so much easier.

This sad little house, was truly transformed into a show piece due to our collaborative efforts, but all the staging in the world would not have sold this house so much over asking, without your hard work.

I am happy to continue to refer you to my clients and business associates.

Thanks again Steve and look forward to many more opportunities to work together again.

Warm wishes for a prosperous 2012, and many more success stories.

Sincerely,

Barb Storey
